

Cavan Company Wins Emerging Exporter Award 2008

Ballytherm Ltd, based in Ballyconnell, Co. Cavan, scooped the Emerging Exporter Award 2008 at the Irish Exporters Association Export Industry Awards 2008 on November 5th. This new award category, sponsored by the County and City Enterprise Boards, recognises exceptional performance by small Irish businesses in developing export activity. An Taoiseach, Brian Cowen was guest speaker at the ceremony and presented the awards, held in O'Reilly Hall, UCD.

Ballytherm Ltd was established in 2002 by directors Brendan Cosgrove and Gerry Reilly. The company, employing 29 people, operates from a purpose built facility in Ballyconnell, manufacturing and supplying insulation products to the construction industry. At present, Ballytherm supply into markets in the Republic of Ireland, Northern Ireland and the United Kingdom and plans to become an extremely robust insulation provider within the European insulation market.

Tel: 049 9527000

Website: www.ballytherm.ie